Walk in U.S., Talk on Japan

An open forum and reception

Friday, March 18 | 2:30 p.m.

Bowen-Thompson Student Union 308, Bowling Green State University

Japanese dignitaries and citizens from a variety of backgrounds share their stories and perspectives in this panel discussion. Consisting of short presentations followed by a conversation with the audience, the event is designed to increase awareness about Japan and further develop the U.S./Japan relationship through people-to-people diplomacy.

In its third year, "Walk in U.S., Talk on Japan" takes place in different cities across the U.S. Former Ambassador to Venezuela, the Honorable Shuji Shimokoji, leads this year's visit to BGSU.

The 90-minute forum will be followed by a complimentary reception.

Sponsored by the Cabinet Office of Japanese Prime Minister Shinzō Abe and the Consulate General of Japan. Hosted by the BGSU College of Arts & Sciences and the Asian Studies Program.
